

Pot Luck & Game Night is a Big WOW!

Wow! What a turnout this Sisterhood event was. Thank you Arla Crane for the fabulous December event. Those who came: Selma Weiss, Richard Weiss, Leah Harris, Shirley Van Ooijen, Gail Kleinman, Larry Kleinman, Naomi Brill, Arlene Cohen, Raj Desenberg, Dale Jacobs, Joan Frank, Canter Karen, Vicki Dick and Mel Dick, Marcia Zatzkin, Allen Zatzkin, Jay Crane, Howard Brody, Shirlee Lock, Libby Pierce, Muriel Rosenkranz, Judith Epstein, Karen Rosenstein, Bruce Hakstader, Lois Hartman and a lovely lady who was with Lois, Rose. (Sorry Rose, did not get you to sign in). Thank you all.

Sisterhood provided the main course of chicken which Arla Crane prepared as well as many different green salads, potato salads, a corn casserole and many other veggie dishes. Desserts were cookies, cupcakes and the wonderful chocolate cake made by our master dessert maker, Naomi Brill.

Games played: dominoes, scrabble, poker, other card games and a great time was had by all.

Again, thank you all for your participation in this event.

Bobbe Jacobs,
President Sisterhood

ANNOUNCEMENT OF CONGREGATIONAL MEETING JANUARY 22ND

Shalom.

You're invited to a special meeting of the congregation at the temple on Wednesday, January 22nd, from 6:30-9:00 pm. Having only one congregational meeting a year (in June) is not enough. The board of directors feel that it would be good to meet more often. Please come; hear about what is going on at Ner Ami. Rabbi Lisa's resignation will mean making adjustments for a while. In December we started a Strategic Planning group to look into long-standing issues affecting the temple.

We are hoping to gain more clarity as to what direction we wish to go as a congregation, and develop a better understanding about how to make it both fiscally and programmatically possible. After a brief report on the State of the Temple, the board of directors will be available to respond to your questions. Childcare will be available; please contact the Temple office so we will know how many child care workers will be needed.

President Steven Graff,
On behalf of the Board of Directors

Club 90 Members have a Special Shabbat Service!

Not available to attend were Bob Cohen, Sanford Garfield, Dorothy Rosenfeld, Sy Heiss, and Kenneth Wilson.

Our Sisterhood Oneg team prepared a wonderful spread for the over 60 people who attended this inspiring Shabbat service.

Thanks to Bobbe Jacobs, Shari Brody, Naomi Brill and Sharon Matorin for helping to make it such a special evening for everyone.

We often say "Thank G-d!"

by Steven Graff, President

Less often we say "Thanks" to the people we know. I'd like to say "thank you" to some particular folks, and to folks in general.

Thank you to Julia Newman and Saul Lessler for friendship, steadfast support, a bottomless barrel of energy, and always good ideas.

Thanks to Rabbi Lisa for rabbinical leadership, incredibly good adult education classes, boundless enthusiasm, and to Ken Bock, for working to get the Men's Group going along with Mitch Schwartz. To Lisa Schwartz, whose humor and sass have been very much appreciated.

Cantor Karen Dworsky, for her gifts of music and torah school teaching. Then there are Naomi Brill, Arla Crane, Shari Brody and Bobbe Jacobs, the Sisterhood leaders, along with the entire Sisterhood, who have always done so much for the temple and whenever asked seem to be ready to take on even more.

Bonnie Shubb for her good stewardship as Treasurer (in the footsteps of Dale Jacobs, her predecessor par excellence) along with her husband, Moises, our talented choirmaster.

Gil Ramot, our Educator and a truly nice man along with his great sense of humor. Our new bookkeeper, Gina Newton, who is clearing up our books. To Kim Honig, who cleaned up the yartzeit list for 3 months, and then input receivables for the rest of the year.

Mark Malloy, the man who seems to be the 'go to' guy whenever there is something that needs to be taken care of, whether it be putting the MEGILLAH or a table together.

Ms. Lee Edwards, for her inspirational talk at High Holy Days. I'd like to thank the members of our High Holy Days choir (Stan Kohls, Saul Lessler, Lenny Lowenshuss, Kim Honig, Susan Weinstein, Sharon Spielman, Elvira Cabelli, Arlene Cohen, Clara Zive) and our clarinet solist, David Singer and our cantorial solist, Marc Bachrach. Alan Crane who has provided musical accompaniment on Shabbat.

The Oneg Elves, Max and Josephine Freifeld. Steve Moore whose good humor, incredible generosity of spirit, time, money, ideas and energy are an inspiration for all of us.

The rest of the hard working and long-hours-attending-meetings Board of Directors: Joan Frank, Cathy Kim, Barbara Davis, Susan Weinstein, and past-president Keith Elliott.

The teachers of our torah school, who are devoted to the children and have great love for shaping young and eager minds. Our madrichim who work with enthusiasm and joy. The students of our torah school, learning and working towards a greater understanding of their heritage.

And last but surely not least, You. You, the members of Temple Ner Ami, for all that you do for each other, for your loved ones, for other temple members, for the greater Jewish community. If I have forgotten any names, be assured it is not due to a lack of respect. Thank you all for all you do.

Find the Artist Within

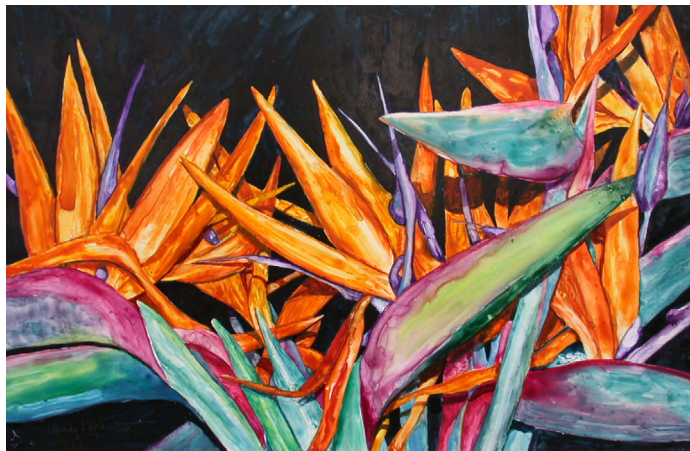

with master artist, Wendy Leftkowitz.

January 23rd - 2:00 p.m.

Please join us in what promises to be an informative and fun afternoon on Thursday, January 23rd with renowned water color artist Wendy Leftkowitz. Wendy's art encompasses the beautiful images of nature. Wendy studied at the Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, NY. She is currently living in Ventura where she has studied with several local prominent artists. She has won first place in the prestigious Gold Coast Watercolor Society Spring competition and the Santa Paula Art Society annual competition. Please visit her website – <http://wendylefkowitzwatercolorartist.com> to see some of her beautiful water colors. After a demonstration of painting with water colors, guests will be able to create their own watercolor. Refreshments will be served after the event.

This event is open to all members of our community. Reservations are required and can be made at sisterhood@templenerami.org or phoned in to Arla Crane, 805-482-9397.

Happy New Years to All of You!

Our November event was on "Long Term Planning" for peace of mind, given by Marcy Nunn. It was very informative. We had about nine ladies attend, and the event was followed by dessert from the Sisterhood.

Our January event is on Thursday the 23rd at 2 p.m. It will be an Art Multimedia presentation and should be very interesting and fun (see details on the opposite page). Men are welcome too, but you need to RSVP to Arla to attend at 805-482-9397. Hope to see many of you there.

We were delighted to participate in the Holiday Appeal for Temple Ner Ami, with a donation of $1,000.00.

Our Calendar of Events has been revised:

February 27 – TBA

March 16 – Sunday, help out at the Sisterhood booth for Purim Carnival. We will be taking sign-ups at the January event.

March 27 – Thursday, the Jewish Film

Festival movie at the Roxie theatre in Camarillo, which we will support.

April 23 – Wednesday – PLEASE MARK YOUR CALENDARS- Trip to the Huntington Library, and we will begin to take sign-ups ASAP. Sisterhood ladies, ladies of the congregation, men/husbands, family and friends are invited. Please get signed up now. More information and cost to follow soon.

May 4 – Sunday- Genocide Walk with Temple Etz Chaim. As soon as we get the information we will get it out to everyone in the congregation.

May 30 – Friday night, ShaBBQ Sisterhood and the Temple Board together

June 20 – Friday night will be the Sisterhood Installation of new board, along with honoring some ladies of the congregation and the Woman of Valor presentation.

If you have any ideas for a February event, please contact Arla, who is our wonderful "Event Chair".

I look forward to seeing many of you at our January Event. REMEMBER to RSVP.

Thanks,
Bobbe Jacobs

A Journey to Israel

by Gil Ramot, Torah School Principal

This article is a different one: I am writing it from Israel.

The Journey started by driving in the middle of the night to LAX, followed with an uneventful flight to NY. Upon arriving to JFK Airport we were informed by other passengers that our flight to Israel is delayed from 9PM to 1AM. As we were standing in line, other passengers were forming more lines next to us trying to inquire in Hebrew, English, and Yiddish what is happening. The desk was overwhelmed, people were tired and cranky, some kids were crying, but Healey and Ofree were doing well. As I was waiting in line 1AM on the flight board was turning to 3AM and a few minutes after to 6AM. Off we went with other passengers to a hotel that was reserved by the airline. NY was freezing and upon arriving to the hotel at 11PM Healey enjoyed touching the snow. A few minutes after and the four of us are sleeping together on a king size bed. At 3AM in the morning we are callws the airline, and 6AM is turning to 10AM.

In the morning the transportation that was supposed to take us to the airport is late, when it finally comes, other passengers are helping us on the curb, making sure that we won't be late.

After a long flight we finally arrived in Israel 13 hours late, but who is counting. A few hours later one of the biggest storms in Israel's history started: Near the shore, where we are, there is heavy rain and hail. In other places there is heavy snow.

Israel for quite some time is not were I live, but it is home. Our family, friends and neighbors all want to see us and feed us. The food is great, (tastes, smell, and richness of it) I have missed it so much. I didn't miss the stressful driving, constant news on TV and radio, and so much more; it is overwhelming. Yes, everyone wants a taste of us, and they all want to feed us - A LOT.

We have arrived just in time to my niece's Bat Mitzvah at a fancy restaurant (no Torah reading for girls in Israel, only lots of family and more food). Instead of a Rabbi teaching her, a choreograph with dance moves and singing. She is very cute. A few days after Revital's niece is joining the army, and as we drive to the IDF base to say goodbye Healey is asking if she was drafted to pre school. As Jordan climbs into the bus to start her IDF basic training, all the adults are tearing. This is Israel's right of passage, we all did it, this is our true Bar and Mat Mitsvah, we defend Israel. Israel defends us. We give 3 years (men) and two years (women), and most of us don't expect anything back, just peace - SHALOM.

One more week ahead of us in Israel, time flies (faster then the airlines), and we wonder from one family to another—I told you they all want to feed us.

As we go from meal to meal, I am busy with Hebrew homework. Why Hebrew homework? Because when we come back to the States I am starting to teach Hebrew at UCSB in addition to my duties at Torah School. So I am excited and nervous at the same time.

During my first semester at UCSB I will be arriving late to Ner Ami because of conflicting schedules. I hope that you will understand that this is only temporary. I do apologize for any inconveniences as I am pursuing a long time dream of mine - to teach at a university.

As we are starting our second semester together, with me being Torah School principal, I wanted to say again how honored I am to know all of you, students, parents and teachers. We have an amazing school, we care about our community, and we are striving to be more connected, more involved, and do more. Sharon Spielman Devortzky wrote me this a few days ago:

"VeHadarta Pnei Zaken. (Vayikra 19-something) I want to work with you to organize and coordinate Torah School Families to pick up a senior and drive them to (and from) Shabbat service. We have several seniors that could use the ride and it's always nicer when the kids and seniors mingle."

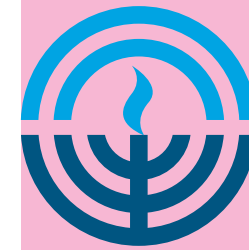

I think that this is a wonderful idea, and with your support, I want to make it happen. We will work together to make this happen.

As I finish this Megilah article, I want to thank all of you, parents, teachers, students, Julia, Rabbi, and Mark, sisterhood, and temple members for your support and kindness in making my transition to the principal position easier. I apologize for my mistakes, and I can't wait for our winter semester together.

Please have a great, safe winter vacation.

Yours truly,

Gil

EVERY DAY IS A NEW BEGINNING

By Diane L. Gough, M.A., MFT

Happy New Year! I am pleased to say that our New Beginnings Support Group has been very successful in 2013. I feel blessed to have been able to help others and share joys, sorrows and laughter with so many lovely people. I am always reminded that each individual is unique. Each one shares his/her story in such profound ways. I learn so much from each person with whom I work and am blessed to be of service to Temple Ner Ami in this way.

We are happy to welcome new members to our group. Our next meeting is Wednesday, January 8th from 1:30 pm to 2:30 p.m. If you have any questions, please call me at (805) 279-7160.

January Book: The Paris Wife

Amazon Best Books of the Month

Most of us know or think we know who Ernest Hemingway was -- a brilliant writer full of macho swagger, driven to take on huge feats of bravery and a pitcher or two of martinis -- before lunch. But beneath this man or myth, or some combination of the two, is another Hemingway, one we've never seen before. Hadley Richardson, Hemingway's first wife, is the perfect person to reveal him to us -- and also to immerse us in the incredibly exciting and volatile world of Jazz-age Paris.

The idea to write in Hadley's voice came to me as I was reading Hemingway's memoir, A Moveable Feast, about his early years in Paris. In the final pages, he writes of Hadley, "I wished I had died before I ever loved anyone but her." That line, and his portrayal of their marriage -- so tender and poignant and steeped in regret -- inspired me to search out biographies of Hadley, and then to research their brief and intense courtship and letters -- they wrote hundreds and hundreds of pages of delicious pages to another!

I couldn't help but fall in love with Hadley, and through her eyes, with the young Ernest Hemingway. He was just twenty when they met, handsome and magnetic, passionate and sensitive and full of dreams. I was surprised at how much I liked and admired him -- and before I knew it, I was entirely swept away by their gripping love story. I hope you will be as captivated by this remarkable couple as I am -- and by the fascinating world of Paris in the 20's, the fast-living, ardent and tremendously driven Lost Generation.

(Summary by the Author, Paula McLain, from Amazon.com)

Each month a member selects a book for all members to read and discuss at the next meeting. Joining the club means you are reading at least one outstanding book every month. What a great idea! Please join us Tuesday, Jan. 14th at 11 am in the Library.
